DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election of Claims 11-17 in the reply filed on 10/30/07 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11-13 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gomez, U.S. Patent 5,882,502.

The Gomez patent discloses the claimed apparatus comprising a reaction chamber containing ore, first and second manifold and an electrochemical cell as claimed to produce the same functions recited therein (see figure 9F and col. 12, lines 18-32). The use of a plurality of slurry vessels would read on the ore bin chamber claimed with the attendant delivery and removal system (see col. 12, lines 18-22). The reference further discloses the current feeder, power source and the use of flow through electrodes (see figures 1-2 and col. 7, lines 51-54 and col. 8, lines 60-65).

Therefore, the claims are anticipated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gomez as applied to claims above, and further in view of Gomez ('370), U.S. Patent 5,569,370.

The Gomez patent fails to disclose the use of a sequential second set up including second electrochemical cell as claimed. The '370 patent to Gomez teaches such a sequential treatment of ore having the second electrochemical cell as claimed (see figure 3 and col. 5, lines 35-60).

Consequently, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Gomez patent with the teachings of the '370 patent, because the '370 patent teaches the use of the sequential treatment of the ore containing liquid to remove all the metal contained in the ore.

Claims 16 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gomez applied as above.

The Gomez patent fails to disclose the exact amount of voltage or flow rate and the exact size of the electrodes. However, such modification to the size and functional limitations has been well settled to be within the scope of the ordinary artisan.

Accordingly, the invention as a whole would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the disclosure of the Gomez patent to change the size, because such modification to the size has been well settled to be within the purview of the ordinary artisan.
